Art Unit: 2836

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The language of Claim 1 is confusing with "a switch connecting the protection circuit to power supplied by another device" wherein the claim previously recites "a power source". Is the another device distinct from the power source? Clarification on this issue and operation by the switch is requested.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Landy (6,580,591).

It is first noted that "a 1394-compliant network of devices" is given no patentable weight as they are recited for merely intended use within the preamble and defining structure is not found within the body of the claim. Therefore, Figure 1 of Landy discloses a transceiver (100) having at least one outbound data line (Pin A or Pin

B); the at least one data line connected to an electrostatic discharge line (ESD HI or ESD LO) via a diode (D1-D4). Switch (S1) connects the protection circuit to power supplied by another device (101)--(in view of the 112, 2nd paragraph rejection above).

5. The Prior Art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to Applicant's disclosure. Reid et al. (6,813,525).
